Background
Cassandra was subject to a revelation of an intangible corps of spirits. On that day everything she had previously filled her life with ceased to matter. Her head was filled with only the incredible patterns and overarching objectives of the world. While the intensity of the visions faded, Cassandra still decided to devote her life to a larger cause.
Notes
Cassandra saw something she couldn't unsee. In her manifest form, her appearance becomes frayed and feral. In the middle of her forehead a third eye opens that cannot stop seeing things. Even in her normal form she still suffers nightmares and visions. She has joined the Bureau of Outsider Affairs to protect others from her fate.
